

How to Conduct Searches of Land Records?

THE LAND REGISTRY

Securing Your Property, Supporting an Open Market

Introduction

This leaflet describes the procedures for customers to follow in conducting searches of land records and obtaining copies of land records.

Search of Land Records

Land records are kept by the Land Registry primarily for the purpose of facilitating property transactions. For every land transaction, it is important to ascertain who the registered owner of the property is and what incumbrances, if any, are registered against it. A land search will provide the searcher with the information.

At the Land Registry's Customer Centre and the New Territories Search Offices (NTSOs), customers can conduct searches of land registers and place orders for copies of land records for properties anywhere in the territory. The addresses, telephone numbers and service hours of the Customer Centre and respective NTSOs are provided in the loose-leaf on "Information of the Land Registry's Offices" attached to this leaflet. Service for inspection of original Government Leases and Block Government Leases is available by appointment.

Types of Land Records

The following land records are available for public searches:

1. Land Register

A register showing the ownership particulars of each property and any incumbrances registered against the property, e.g. Legal Charge, Agreement for Sale and Purchase, Court Order, etc.

2. Memorial

In the form specified by the Land Registrar, it contains the essential particulars of the accompanying document lodged for registration.

3. Memorial Day Book

A record of all the memorials of the relating documents lodged for registration each day with the essential particulars of each memorial.

4. Government Lease

A lease of land granted by the Government including any instrument whereby the term of a lease may be extended or the provisions thereof varied, and any agreement for a Government Lease such as New Grant, Conditions of Sale, Conditions of Grant, Conditions of Exchange, etc.

5. Block Government Lease

A lease issued for a Demarcation District/Survey District or a block of lots. It contains the lease conditions and a schedule showing the name of owner, area, class, annual rent, etc. of each lot.

Types of Searches

To search a land record is to inspect and/or obtain a copy of the land record. Depending on the mode in which the record concerned is kept, a search produces:

1. Land Register

A computer printout in A4 size containing the information in the Land Register of the property concerned.

2. Land Document

An imaged copy.

3. Land Record in Paper Form

The paper record for inspection and copying, if required.

In addition to the Land Register, customers are also advised to check the Unposted Memorial List by using the Integrated Registration Information System (IRIS) Online Services via the Internet or the self-service terminals installed at the Customer Centre and the NTSOs to find out if there are any instruments lodged for registration but for one reason or another, entries of the same have not yet been made in the Land Register.
